

Bodegas La Caña
La Caña Navia 2019

Robert Parker
WINE ADVOCATE

91pts

"There are intense notes of pineapple in the 2018 Navia, intermixed with notes of spices and herbs. It fermented and matured in 500- and 600-liter oak barrels with the lees and bâtonnage for 10 months. It has both concentration and freshness, ripe flavors and a long, dry finish with a marine twist."

"The 2019 Navia feels mellower than the 2018, with a soft palate and a velvety mouthfeel, finishing long and dry. It's varietal and clean and has some spicy oak in the background. It has medium ripeness with 13.62% alcohol and has kept good freshness through blocking malolactic fermentation."
