Muga Blanco 2017

Robert Parker
WINE ADVOCATE

88-90pts

"The wine has good ripeness without any herbal notes. It's a bit sharp right now, but it's still a little early, as it will be kept with the lees for a further two months, and it should gain in volume during that time. The white and rosé are always sourced from higher-altitude, cooler zones (especially in the Najerilla), so these wines are always fresh."
